

Instructions for poster preparation and presentation for NES2012

About the presentation of your poster

- Authors who are presenting the poster are requested to stand by the poster during the poster session on Monday between 11.45-13.00 and 14.30 - 15.00.
- The poster must be brought by the author personally and may not be submitted by mailing in advance.
- The poster can be supplemented by hand-outs of one A4 sheet of paper (front and back) describing the poster. The authors are responsible for bringing such material. It is recommended to bring a plastic case for the handouts to be attached to the poster stand.

About putting up your poster

- There will be an area marked for your poster. Suitable material to display the posters on will be provided on-site. The poster can be put up from Sunday, August 19, 3 p. m. och shall be in place at latest by Monday, August 20, 11.00, a. m.

When creating your poster

- Dimensions of the posters should be no larger than size A0 (119 cm high x 84 cm wide).
- Text and illustrations must be produced heavily and clearly, so that all posters can be readable from a distance of 2 meters. Recommended size for the text is 24 points or larger. Headings should be 44 points or larger.
- At the top of the poster, in bold lettering of about 2.5 to 3 cm size, please provide the title of the paper, name(s) of the author(s), and affiliation. Title and authors must be the same as stated on the submitted abstract.
- The poster presentation must be self-explanatory and presented in such a way that spectators standing one to two meters from your poster can clearly read and grasp the significance of the work and its central message in a few minutes.
- Tables should be used sparingly and kept as simple as possible. Data are almost always more efficiently displayed graphically.
- A descriptive text should appear at the bottom of all graphs and tables.
- The poster abstract is printed in the abstract book of the conference and poster papers (if submitted and accepted) are included in the conference proceedings.
